

Dehesa La Granja 2004, vino de la semana para Los Angeles Times

La recomendación ha sido publicada en la sección de vinos del periódico estadounidense por la experta en gastronomía de esta publicación, S. Irene Virbila. Este mismo vino, Dehesa La Granja 2004, ha recibido otra mención en el blog de la colaboradora de Los Angeles Times, Rene Lynch.

"Yet another stunning, value-priced wine from Alejandro Fernandez and his Grupo Pesquera, the 2004 Dehesa La Granja is 100% Tempranillo from 13-year-old vines. That's young by Spanish standards, yet this unfiltered medium-bodied red is lush and complex, with deep flavors of blackberries and plums, herbs and a touch of smoke. Tannins are mellow, and the finish lingers. Drink it now or wait awhile. But somehow I don't think this bottle is going to be hanging around in anybody's cellar for long.